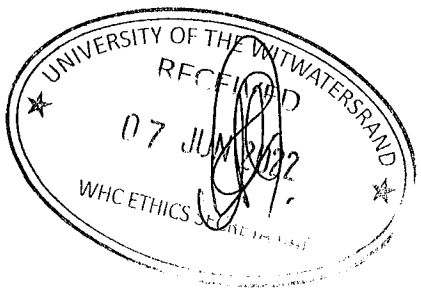
07 June 2022

ATT: Chairperson: Professor Clement Penny

Human Research Ethics Committee (Medical)
University of the Witwatersrand
Ethics Office, 3rd Floor
31 Princess of Wales Terrace
Parktown, Johannesburg
2193



Dear Professor Clement Penny and Colleagues,

RE: Individual Participant Data meta-analysis to quantify the impact of high ambient temperatures on maternal and child health in Africa

Request for approval HEAT001 Protocol Version 1.0 dated 05 May 2022

Protocol Title, Protocol Number, Version and Date:	Title: Individual Participant Data meta-analysis to quantify the impact of high ambient temperatures on maternal and child health in Africa Protocol number: HEAT001 Protocol, Version 1.0 dated 05 May 2022
Study Type:	Individual participant data meta-analysis
Principal Investigators:	• Professor Matthew Francis Chersich of the Wits Reproductive Health and HIV Institute • Professor Stanley Luchters of Centre for Sexual Health and HIV & AIDS Research
Funding:	National Institute of Health Common Fund
Ethics Ref no:	Pending

We hereby respectfully request approval from the Wits Human Research Ethics Committee (Wits HREC) (Medical) for the HEAT001 protocol.

Please find attached documents supporting this application for approval:

1. Wits HREC submission checklist
2. Wits HREC application form
3. Individual Participant Data meta-analysis to quantify the impact of high ambient temperatures on maternal and child health in Africa Protocol version 1.0 dated 05 May 2022
4. Protocol Synopsis /abstract
5. Notice of Award
6. Purchase Order
7. Study Staff Documentation